Diageo plc (LSE: DGE)

Rating: BUY (model output; PM to confirm or override) | Fair value 2,141p | Share price 1,673p (12 Oct 2026) | Upside +28.0%

Thesis

- Cash is recovering while the share price sits near its low. FY26 free cash flow rose to USD 3,211m from USD 2,748m, and leverage eased to 3.14x from 3.35x. The stock is 66.8% below its January 2022 peak and trades at 13.4x FY26 EPS before exceptionals.
- Self-help is quantified. Management targets c.USD 1bn of savings (USD 850m operating framework, USD 150m supply chain). At our 50% flow-through, the EBIT margin rises from 29.4% (ex-EABL base) to 31.9% by FY28.
- Disposals de-risk the balance sheet. EABL (c.USD 2.3bn) and Royal Challengers Bengaluru (our share c.USD 1,018m) bring leverage back towards the 2.5-3.0x target.

Valuation

The DCF is in USD and converted to pence at USD 1.3234 per GBP. Base-year net sales are USD 18,505.5m excluding EABL. Organic growth is 0.0%, 1.5%, 2.5%, 3.0% and 3.0% (FY27-31, low end of guidance), with 50% savings flow-through and 2.0% terminal growth.

WACC is 6.75%: risk-free 5.22% (US 10-year), beta 0.48 (peer median), ERP 5.0%, cost of equity 7.60%, pre-tax cost of debt 6.22% (risk-free + 1.0%, PM rule), debt weight 29.4%. The model gives an enterprise value of USD 76,931m and an equity value of USD 62,969m, which is USD 28.34 or 2,141p per share. The bear scenario (no growth, 25% flow-through, WACC +1 point) gives 1,527p (HOLD).

Comps are thin: only two peers have usable data. A median P/E of 14.0x (Pernod Ricard 10.7x, Brown-Forman 17.4x) implies 1,753p (range 1,334p to 2,172p). The DCF is 22% above comps, and the terminal value is 80.7% of EV.

Value per share (p)	g 1.5%	g 2.0%	g 2.5%

WACC 6.75%	1,931	2,141	2,402
WACC 7.25%	1,721	1,892	2,099
WACC 7.75%	1,545	1,686	1,854

Fundamentals

- Growth has stalled: organic net sales growth was 6.5% in FY23, then -0.6%, 1.7% and -2.0% in FY26. North America (USD 7,249m) fell 8.4% organically. Africa grew 13.3% and Latin America & Caribbean 7.7%.
- Margins have compressed: operating margin before exceptionals went from 31.1% (FY22) to 28.9% (FY26). Exceptional charges of USD 2,527m cut the reported margin to 16.1%.
- Cash is improving: free cash flow went from USD 2,235m (FY23) to USD 3,211m (FY26). Lower capex (USD 1,197m) helped.
- Balance sheet: interest cover fell from 13.6x (FY22) to 7.0x (FY26). ROIC is 13.4%.

Risks

- Beta vs the FTSE 100 is 0.37 on 5-year monthly returns, but the R-squared is only 0.04. We use the peer median of 0.48. Both are unreliable measures of Diageo's risk.
- Volatility is 31.6% (1 year) and 24.1% (5 years), against 12.5% for the FTSE 100.

- The maximum drawdown was -66.8% (4 Jan 2022 to 24 Mar 2026).
- Leverage is 3.14x adjusted net borrowings / adjusted EBITDA, above the 2.5-3.0x target. The dividend has been cut to a 30-50% payout.

Bear case and our response

1. Beta of 0.48 understates the risk. At beta 1.0, the value is 1,407p (-735p, SELL). Response: PM to respond. This is the decision that sets the rating.

2. A 1% credit spread may be too tight while leverage is above target. A 2% spread gives 2,024p (-117p). Response: still a BUY.

3. Savings are reinvested, not kept. 25% flow-through gives 2,017p (-124p); 0% gives 1,893p (-248p, HOLD). Response: PM to respond; this is the most credible single threat to the BUY.

4. Terminal growth vs a shrinking spirits market. 1.5% gives 1,931p (-211p), a BUY by a hair. Response: volumes are falling, but pricing has historically offset this. PM to respond.

5. Management missed every 2023-26 incentive target: organic sales CAGR -0.3% against a 4.0% threshold. Zero growth gives 2,069p (-72p). Response: the valuation depends more on the discount rate than on growth.

6. Net debt is stale. The 30c final dividend costs 23p. Response: immaterial.

Strongest reason not to buy: the upside still needs a 0.48 beta. At beta 1.0, the same model gives 1,407p.
